

Limestone flour

Limestone flour is used as a supplementary source of calcium. Limestone flour can be used as an aid in the prevention of milk fever in dairy cows after calving. It is also a good source of calcium for young stock, fast growing cattle and replacement dairy heifers. Limestone flour provides calcium to support rapid bone growth and milk production.

